CHS Life

Here we are-
With times of unity,
Times of separation.
A sense of encouragement and a feeling of discouragement.
Times of ecstasy
with an air of tranquility.

But these moments
good or bad,
happy or sad,
are in our minds –
forever.

This is CHS.

The CHS RECORDER staff would like to dedicate this page to Mrs. Nell Wiseman. We feel that she has contributed greatly to the development of the English Department at CHS, as well as working as advisor to the cheerleaders. We feel that she is a tremendous asset to CHS and would therefore like to congratulate her for doing such a great job at CHS.

Social Science

The department's two most popular offerings, and the most recent, seem to be sociology and world affairs. This is true probably because they deal most directly with the problems of today's society. Each is taught on a semester basis.

But the old standbys are always there. First, there is world history. The knowledge obtained about the background of the major civilizations leads into the course on American history. Our history could not be appreciated without understanding the function of government. This is covered in civics which is supplemented with a second semester course in consumer economics. Of these all except world history are required.

Principal Donald O. Bretsch

The directions men take in their pursuit of the "ideal" are as varied as their numbers. The goal to which we aspire can be an individual choice, enhanced by preparation and reinforced with dedication. Regardless of our self-determined direction, education is a most important factor.

It is imperative that each one of us continually take full advantage of the educational opportunities afforded. As holds true with any of our endeavors, the degree of satisfaction and achievement gained from school is in a direct proportion to the amount of work and effort put forth. May you accept the challenge of quality performance in preparing to reach your "ideal."

Newton player No. 52: "Thanks, I needed that!"

Despite their losing record, the Charleston Trojans had an exciting season with several over and double-overtime games. The action on the court was always fast-paced and physical.

Individuals stood out this year for various reasons. Mike Pence led the team in scoring and made the Apollo All-Conference team. Dennis Conely, who dazzled the fans with his daring dribbling and passing, was named the outstanding sophomore player in the Apollo Conference and received honorable mention to the All-Conference team. Kevin Hussey, the lone senior on the team, was second in scoring, and he also made the All-Conference team.

With the exception of Kevin Hussey, all of the players should be back next season. With one more year of experience behind them, the basketball Trojans should have a better season next year.
